

"STRAIGHTEN THINGS, THEN I'LL QUIT"--HUERTA*CARRANZA REFUSES TO MAKE TRUCE

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 3.—The main issue in the Mexican situation today again rested with Washington.

The Mexican delegates have declared that Huerta was ready to retire, but neatly placed in their statement are two words setting forth conditions under which the dictator will abdicate, which put the issue squarely up to Secretary Bryan and President Wilson.

Huerta is prepared to withdraw when Mexico is politically straightened out, and this means that the United States must bring pressure to bear on Carranza to lay down his arms. Huerta will retire when Mexico is in peace. When there is no revolt, when the men in the fields have returned to their homes. This was contained in the statement issued by Huerta.

He has taken the position that the United States must save him from the constitutionalists and the bandit Zapata.

Washington Urges Rebels to Accept

Washington, June 3.—Re-establishment of peace in Mexico is up to Carranza. Huerta's agreement to retire paved the way, it is believed, for a solution to be arrived at.

Administration officials here rejoiced in their efforts to have the constitutionalists accept the peace proposals. The chief stumbling block was the condition of Mexico's internal affairs. Some way will be found to overcome the case of Carranza.

Retained pressure was brought to the administration today to get the constitutionalists to agree to a truce if only for a few days.

One of the propositions to be presented to Carranza is the creation of a provisional government composed of entirely "neutral" Mexicans who would be acceptable to the constitutionalists.

Rebels Capture
Sugar Cargo

Board U. S. Ship California
Wireless to San Diego, Calif., June 3.—The Mexican schooner Golds, carrying a cargo of sugar, went aground today on Piedras Blancas in Macatlan harbor and was captured by constitutionalists.

The vessel is breaking up in the surf. The federal government of the island has granted permission to a representative of a neutral sugar company to enter the constitutionalist line and secure recovery of the cargo.

Spanish Citizens Held Up

Charleston, W. Va., June 3.—Col. Josefa Huerta, who arrived here today, said General Blanquet, Mexican minister of war, has gained absolute control of Huerta.

He said many Mexicans believe Blanquet will get rid of the president. The only thing black in the way is that Washington, June 3—Cancellation by railroads of proportional rate of $2.10 per ton on bituminous coal from Ohio fields to Mississippi river points destined to Iowa and other mid-continent points was held today by the interstate commerce commission to be without justification.

The cancellation which would have resulted in an increase of about 15 per cent via Peoria and Chicago was ordered withdrawn.

Portugal Plot

Lisbon, Portugal, June 3.—Another plot in the long list of conspiracies against the Republican government was discovered today in Coimbra, an important educational center about 100 miles north of this city.

Two hundred students in the University of Coimbra, the most famous institution of learning in the republic, were arrested and soldiers are seeking for others who were in the crowd.

The University of Coimbra was founded in 1288.

RIDE FREE IN TOLEDO

Toledo, O., June 3.—The race arranged yesterday in the local street car franchise war is in effect today. Cars were running as usual and riders who refused to pay more than three-cent rate, fixed by the ordinance granted on March 27, and which has been the subject of litigation, are carried free. About 20 per cent of the riders refuse to pay fare.

DAWSON HAS

Indianapolis, Ind., June 3—John Dawson, who was injured in the automobile mass here,Decoration Day, was said today to have a fighting chance. He was still in a critical condition, however.

Secretary Bryan made this an announcement today in regard to vessels damaged parts.

Vessels clearing from ports where there are no constitutionalist representatives may have their papers signed by the postmaster of those ports.

Notice to this effect was given to all foreign consuls at Tampa, June 2.

COMMISSION CITIES

Albion, N. Y., June 3.—City Manager H. M. White of Dayton, Ohio, told delegations to the fifth annual convention of mayors and city officials today that Ohio cities under a commission were superior to the state commission cities. Nearly 400 municipal officers were present.

The militant suffragettes had threatened to make another attack upon Buckingham Palace on the King's anniversary, which resulted in the police guards being strengthened there.

MILITANTS BEAT UP
EDITOR AND DOCTOR,
ALSO USE HATCHET

London, Eng., June 3—An attendant in the Dore art galleries in New Bond street probably was mortally injured today while trying to prevent a militiaman from smashing pictures which were on exhibition. The woman struck the man over the head with the sharp edge of a hatchet and he was rushed to the nearest hospital in an unconscious condition.

The woman, who was emulating similarly dealt with Editor Stewart, her fellow picture smashers in the Royal Academy and the National Academy, coined an oil sketch by Bartolomeo and a water color landscape by John Harkness. While she was wobbling her hatchet an attendant ran up and tried to grasp her arm.

The woman brought her weapon down with a crashing blow upon the man's skull. Several other attendants and a few spectators rushed up and surrounded the amazon. Screaming and struggling with militiamen strength, she was carried bodily to the street, where police men took her in charge.

The hatchet which the woman wielded was held by the police to be used as evidence against her if her victim died.

A letter was left in the gallery by the woman in which she assersents militants heretofores have been “too ladylike.” She adds:

“To stop this, you must give us justice. We are willing to die but before we are willing to give in.

We have been too ladylike in the past. We are going to fight and you can allow us to be killed.

Others will arise to take our places.”

N. & W. ENGINE BLOWS UP; TWO MEN ARE KILLED IN ACCIDENT; TRACK BLOCKED

Columbus, O., June 3—Two men were killed and the Norfolk and Western Railway suffered a monetary loss of $35,000 when engine No. 1092, hauling an extra double header west-bound freight train, blew up near Duval's Station, a few miles south of Columbus at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning. The wrecked engine was the second engine, the head engine not being damaged.

The men who lost their lives in the terrific explosion, which lifted the boiler from the engine and deposited it in a field near the track were Engineer W. L. Wier, whose family reside at 760 Bellows avenue, Columbus, and Fireman Robert M. Harmon, whose family reside at 1203 1-2 Michigan avenue, Columbus.

Wier was killed outright but Harmon lived about 30 minutes after the explosion. He died as he was being taken into the Protestant Hospital in the Capital City.

Just what caused the explosion will not be definitely determined until N. & W. officials can make a thorough investigation of the shattered engine. Master Mechanic J. S. Pearce of Portsmouth, went to the scene as soon as possible Wednesday morning. Assistant Superintendent L. C. Ayres and Trainmaster David F. Peters were also soon on the ground directing the work of clearing the tracks. Traffic was delayed about four hours as several cars were derailed by the force of the explosion.

So far as could be learned the engineer and fireman on the lead engine No. 390 were not injured.

The freight train left Portsmouth, found the engine a mass of twisted iron. The engine was picked up many yards from the spot where the blow-off occurred, giving ample test to the force of the explosion.

Some little time before the wreck, Harmon, a boy of 16, of Columbus, and his friend, W. E. Johnson, could be summoned. Little of train took up.

The coal train was in charge of conductor Walter N. Campbell. Winter Genshaw was breaking coal on the train. Both live in the city and both escaped injury.

Wier, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene, had been in the employ of the N. & W. for eight years. His son attached his name to the N. & W.'s list of employees just a year ago. The bodies of the men were hauled from the scene by the force of the explosion, which took place within four miles of the Avonville station, where the lives of six people were snuffed out in a terrible mobile accident.

Harmon lived at the Portsmouth Terminal, where

FINED FOR REFUSING TO WRECK BUILDINGS HEALTHY PARISH

Oscar Boyer and H. Clay Mershon, local property owners, were arraigned before Mayor Frick Wednesday morning on affidavits sworn to by Lawrence Bast, official wrecker of buildings in the state fire marshal's department, charging them with wilfully failing to obey the orders of the department to wreck buildings belonging to them which were condemned by the state authorities last October.

From their own statements on the stand, the mayor adjudged them guilty, and fined each of them $25 and costs. He informed them, however, that the fines would be remitted if they proceeded at once to tear down the buildings complained of, an act which both of them promised to do so immediately.

Mr. Bast, who arrived in Portsmouth Tuesday morning, testified that Boyer had been notified on October 30th to raze a two-story barn building in the rear of 912 Fourteenth street, which was used as a dwelling, and that he had again been notified by registered letter on April 7th last to tear it down. He offered the register for the registered letter sent by Boyer as evidence that no order was received.

Notwithstanding the orders, Mr. Bast testified that in making his inspection tour of the city Tuesday, he found the building still standing, part of it being occupied. Boyer, testifying in his own behalf, stated that it had been his intention to raze the building, but that he had been so busy with other work that he could not get to it before now. The mayor scolded Boyer for his delay in complying with every instruction relative to his property, which issued by the state authority, and declared that the customer proved conclusively his guilt.

Considerable excitement was created in Mershon's hearing over the fact that Mershon claimed that he took the word "raise" to mean "raise," and that his compliance with the order, he "raised" the "incubation" building at 110 Front street fifteen inches. The specific complaint against the "raise" was that he had failed to tear down the building in the rear of 912 Front street, as ordered. Bast stated that Mershon, like Boyer, had been personally notified and threatened with a notice by registered mail.

In this connection, Mr. Bast said that last October, he had issued 23 orders to raze buildings which were regarded as fire traps, but that all had been obeyed. Five hundred property owners, in which number were included Boyer and for Huntington at 3 p.m. Klondike was absolutely ignored, the fire being at 2 p.m.

New shaker grange bars, similar to those on the Greenback Capt. Wm. Kimball, had been placed on the school before the close of Friday, says, will be placed on the Seed City that is to be called the La Salle.

Fog plots on rivers or the high water tables of the state department were assured, Mr. Bast, by Mr. Frick during the hearing.

CLARK GETS DIVORCE

In the divorce case of Myrtle Clark vs. Fred Clark, heard Tuesday before Justice Judge Thomas, the court denied the petition of the plaintiff and granted the defendant a decree upon his answer and cross petition, which alleged his wife had been unfaithful on the part of Mrs. Clark. The Davis woman and her daughter were arrested in connection with the killing of Ben March on May 16, 1913, which crime was committed at Eleventh and Railroad streets about 11 o'clock at night. Several witnesses saw the woman plunge knife into the body of March numerous times, and a coroner's jury later returned a verdict that the man came to his death as a result of his wounds, one of which was inflicted by his wife and caused almost instantaneous death. At the time of his arrest and confinement in jail, Clark was dead. At the time he moved to New York City, Mr. Clark is a bachelor and will have no children.
